CBRN Crime Combate via International Training Program in the field

Between November 5 and 8, 2024, ANRAN representatives participated, with presentation, within the National Institute of Justice at two events, as part of the pilot project "Consolidation of the capabilities of the Republic of Moldova for investigation, criminal prosecution and judgment of CBRN cases". Combating cases of chemical, biological, radiological and nuclear (CBRN) cases of the relevant authorities in the Republic of Moldova was the purpose of two training sessions. Border Police, Information and Security Service, Customs Service, National Agency for Nuclear and Radiological Activities, Ministry of Foreign Affairs, Ministry of Defense, Ministry of Health, etc. Also, two guides were presented that offer an overview of the current and emerging challenges related to the CBRN security, as well as recommendations to support the success of criminal prosecution and judgment of such cases. implementing the international legal framework of several reference conventions.

